. . . a Forward

The rustling autumn leaves of vibrant hue and the waving vines of ivy climbing up the stone wall of the school have a poetry about them all their own. These beauties of nature remained outside the school as we entered the oaken door to renew old friendships and meet new classmates and teachers.

As fall turned into winter, the first snow fell, covering the once colorful trees with a white cap. Our interests turned to thoughts of the white wonderland, and before we realized it, the year was half over.

Then came spring--the wind gently blowing the almost barren branches, with their tiny buds beginning to open under the warmth of the sun. For nature this was a poetical beginning, but for us almost the ending of poetry, history, and school.

Black caps and gowns marked the end of our two years at JJC, but replacing the hours spent in school were the cool swimming holes, the warm summer rains, and the wonderful out-of-doors; and, thus, through nature in all four seasons we truly see--Poetry in Motion.

Mrs. Vera Smith and Mrs. Ann Frick -

During the school day Mrs. Smith may be found teaching and applying the uses of good English. Until this last year one might also have found her actively involved with the yearbook, The Shield.

Mrs. Smith, who had been the yearbook advisor for five years, was followed this year by Robert Burke.

During those five years, the yearbook grew as did the school. With a growing school, Mrs. Smith and her staffs had to find new and better ways of remaking The Shield to include all the additions to JJC.

It is for her work on the yearbook these past years that we dedicate The Shield of '62 to Mrs. Vera Smith.

Mrs. Vera Smith--yearbook advisor for five years.

Whether busily typing the "Casuals," sponsoring the activities of the Blazer and the Press Club, or doing one of the many jobs that can be found to be done in an office, Mrs. Frick still finds time to help the Blazer reporters with their stories or the yearbook staff with the last minute mailing of copy.

Since Mrs. Frick came to the junior college office, she has been actively involved with the student newspaper. Besides writing an occasional headline, Mrs. Frick handles the behind-the-scenes workings of the Blazer.

It is for her work on the paper that we dedicate The Shield of '62 to Mrs. Ann Frick.

Vet's sponsor Mixer.

The JJC Vets' Club is composed of students who have served in Uncle Sam's Armed Services, and now have returned to their studies. Besides participating in homecoming activities, and a few private parties, the Vets sponsored the College Carnival which was a new innovation for JJC, and also an Easter party for underprivileged children. First semester officers included George Eibel, president; Duane Paul, vice-president; Lee Young, secretary-treasurer; Jerry Mikulich, Student Council representative. A new administration took office for the second semester: Lee Young, president; Duane Paul, vice-president; George Tate, secretary-treasurer; and Rich Norris, Student Council representative.

SEA Prepares for Future

The Student Education Association is a professional organization for students interested in teaching as a career. The JJC Chapter, with an active membership of eighty students, provides important information concerning standards, trends, and opportunities in the teaching profession.

Service, too, holds an important place in SEA activities. The group sponsored the reception for guests at homecoming in October, mailed invitations to parents, provided a Courtesy Treat for the faculty during American Education Week, maintained the school's outdoor bulletin board, contributed to the American Field Service Program at JTHS, and presented a musical program and gifts of fruit, magazines, and home-made cookies to patients at Sunnyhill Sanitarium.

Officers of SEA are: Ron Petrinis, president; Cecilia Vargas, vice-president; Rosalie Bennett, secretary-treasurer; and Alma Lauffer, Student Council representative. Sponsor of the group is Mrs. Grace Brewer.

JC Players Very Active

The purpose of the JC Players organization is to extend to all its members the chance to participate in theatrical productions as actors and also to learn various production techniques. The student is taught to take his work seriously and to portray his role to the best of his ability. The emphasis is placed not upon developing professional actors but upon instructing the students so that they become more familiar with the drama.

This year has been an active year for the players.

This Year

One of the big highlights was the winning of first place in the homecoming float competition and the execution of a musical half-time show. In December the annual student-directed one-acts were presented. Several Christmas programs also were presented.

The second semester activities are highlighted by the annual spring play. This year the play "Star Dust" is to be presented. In May there is the spring banquet with the presentation of the "Oscar Awards" to aspiring young actors. We of the JC Players have enjoyed presenting entertainment for the college, not so much for the recognition it gives us, but because of the enjoyment we can bring to other people.

Jay Becker, Phil Crowe, Layne Meeker, and Al Levering in "Arbie the Bug Boy."

Marty Sharp and Penny Wills in "Mary Queen of Scots."

Terry Williams and Joan Sorenson in "Hello Out There."

Big Year for Engineers

The purpose of the JJC Engineers' Club is to help engineering students become better acquainted with the profession by having engineers from all phases of the profession speak to the group at regular monthly meetings.

During December the club took a field trip to the Dresden Nuclear Power Plant, and during National Engineers' Week in February, club members were guests of the Joliet Chapter of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers for their annual banquet.

This was a big year for the Engineers' Club, for it fulfilled all requirements to become a student branch of the Society of Professional Engineers. The state charter was presented this year, and the national charter will be granted next year. At this time Joliet Junior College will become only the second college in the country having a Delta Chapter in the Society of Professional Engineers.

Business Club Learns About Business World

Students who are seeking a profession in the business world are aware of the advantages of belonging to the JJC Associated Business Club. Guest speakers from the various areas of business are presented at its monthly meetings. These people speak to the members concerning the requirements, opportunities, and advantages of their specific fields and conduct informal question-and-answer periods following their talks. It is through the knowledge gained from these talks that many students become enlightened about their field of endeavor.

The most memorable event of the year is the annual spring banquet. It is at this time that awards for outstanding scholarship, loyalty, and leadership are presented. The banquet is concluded with the naming of the new president for the next school year.

SMS Grows

SMS stands for Students of Medical Science of Joliet Junior College and has 135 members. SMS is not so much a club as a pre-professional career organization, very serious in its purpose and quite astonishing in its accomplishments.

The JJC Swingband, under the leadership of Dr. Hal Dellinger, is indubitably a "swinging group of cats." Their musical ability is displayed on their annual tour and at the spring musical. The tuneful accomplishments and performances of the Swingband certainly add a musical flavor to JJC and to the tastes of all the students.

The Dixieland Band plays for the Christmas party.

JJC Choir Members

Norma Kaman, Jane Griffin, Norm McDonald, Bev Morse, Dave Decman, Karen Chaney, Ina Geddes, Judy Evans board the bus for the annual Choir tour.

The JJC Choir, under the direction of Dr. Hal Dellinger, is a very active organization throughout the year. Some eighty members take a vocal part in the interpretation of varying modes of music. The activity of the choir centers around their annual tour, Christmas programs, the spring musical, and the Junior College graduation exercises. Much effort and cooperation is required of each member of the JJC Choir, but the rewards and satisfaction attained make it worthwhile and enjoyable.

Have Exciting Year

Discussion Club Faces Issues . . .

Left to right: Rich Englehardt, Don Boykin, Harry Eicher, Henry Azuma, Ron Kapala, Paul Eisen, Vincent Amos.

The Discussion Club, which was newly formed last year, held their weekly meetings in the lounge. Here members freely and openly discussed a pre-chosen topic, thereby avoiding a friendly chit-chat but getting a meeting of positive value.

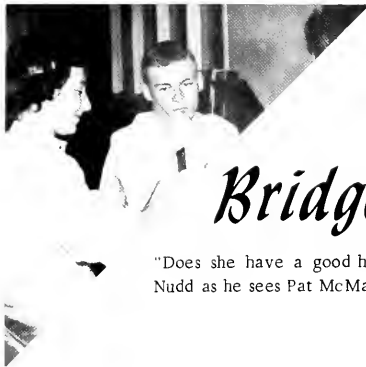

"That may be, but can you prove it?" Paul Eisen asks as Vincent Amos looks on.

Mr. Birkholz, Sponsor, and Rich Englehardt discuss matters of importance during a Tuesday night meeting.

The issues discussed included the Berlin Crisis, the nuclear arms crisis, the uproar about the American school system, and several discussions on Christianity and Judaism. The club had no officers except for Mr. Birkholz, sponsor, and Paul Eisen, Student Council Representative.

Bridge Club's First Year . . .

"Does she have a good hand?" wonders Tom Nudd as he sees Pat McMahon's smile.

Student requests for instruction in contract bridge resulted in the introduction in January of a new and unique club, which soon found twenty-five enthusiastic members bidding, doubling, and redoubling each Tuesday evening. Beginners were tutored by experienced players in the group.

A bridge tournament for JJC was the main activity of the group, with the winners' names engraved on a trophy.

Officers of the group are Larry Morris, president; Loran Kimsey, vice-president; Virginia Ward, secretary-treasurer; and Debbie Houseknecht, Student Council representative. Co-sponsors of the club are Miss Susan Wood and Mrs. Grace Brewer.

Lettermen Promote Sports . . .

The 1961-62 year was a school year of vigorous activity for the Lettermen's Club. Besides academics and participation in sports, the lettermen found time to build one of the best homecoming floats in the club's history. The 2nd annual WAL-Lettermen dance proved to be one of the outstanding social events of the spring.

The club made its usual awards of letter jackets to deserving football and basketball players. Awards were also given to the most valuable athletes in the three major sports, and to the athlete of the year.

Club officers were Ron Hughes, president; Tom Laken, vice-president; Jim Mance, secretary-treasurer; Dave Hennessey, Student Council representative; Mr. Gil Bell, sponsor.

Walt Williams, who was injured during the football season, accepts a check from Ron Hughes from the proceeds of the Walt Williams Benefit Mixer.

WAL Features Attract JC Girls . . .

The Women's Activity League highlighted the Fall season with its Mother-Daughter Tea. Between float building, gymborees, swimming parties, and picnics, the club featured a hair stylist at one of the monthly meetings.

As spring approached, the WAL and Lettermen joined to sponsor "Twilight Magic," the annual spring dance. Chairmen for the semi-formal event were Karen Chaney, Vice-president of WAL, and Ron Hughes, President of the Lettermen.

Press Club Keeps

Members of the Press Club kept the student body informed of school happenings by working on the school publications, such as the college newspaper, The Blazer, which is published monthly, and the "Casuals," which come out three times per week to announce club meetings, events, and other noteworthy announcements. In addition, Lee Vargas and Renee Slatten weekly wrote the "Wolf Call" column in a local newspaper.

Students Informed of Events . . .

There was not only work for members, but play as well. Press Club made a float besides sponsoring a queen candidate, Carol Koenig, for homecoming. At Christmas the annual party was held at which Neal MacDonald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. MacDonald, graciously chaperoned. In preparation for the Sadie Hawkins Dance, they sponsored a Square Dance Mixer. Later in the year they also held a skating party and another mixer.

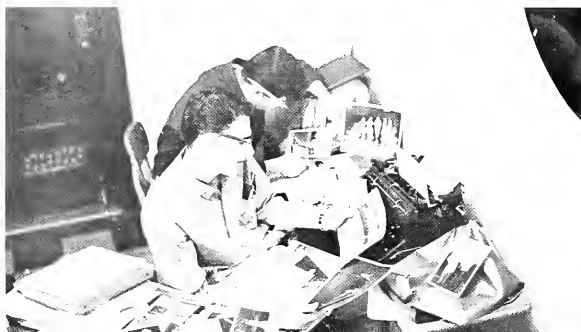

Carol Koenig, editor-in-chief of the yearbook, tries to save the barbeque from Chris Pinn, index editor, who seems ravenously hungry.

"Good to the very last drop," says Neal MacDonald as he stops for a break during a session of hard work.

Press Club Works on Yearbook . . .

Throughout the year, members of the Press Club were seen busily writing copy, setting up dates for taking pictures, and then identifying the persons in the pictures. Though the job of getting the yearbook out seemed, at times, overwhelming, the quiet feeling of accomplishment when the yearbook was completed by far made up for all the difficulties encountered during the year.

Ken Tyrrell and Joe Kociuba decide which pictures will be used for the sports section.

Carol O'Connor, Carol Koenig, and Aija Jekabsons go through the tortures of putting out the yearbook.

Lee Vargas, Bob Visconti, Carol O'Connor, Carol Koenig, Mrs. Frick, Carol Keeffer, and Mr. Burke work late into the night.

Motor Sports Club Founded . . .

Ken Brainard shows how he felt when his car got stuck in a snowdrift.

The Motor Sports Club, which was founded late this year, states in its charter that "The general purposes of this organization shall be to encourage the preservation, ownership, and operation of motor sport vehicles, the promotion of motor sport events, the development of driving skill and safe driving practices of its members, the encouragement of sportsmanlike conduct and courtesy, and the furtherance of public respect for sport vehicles and their drivers." Members of the club do not need to own cars but need only an interest in them to qualify for admittance.

OFFICERS: Ken Brainard, treasurer; Bill Fields, president; Joyce Ellena, social chairman; Steve Simpson, secretary; and Bob Sandberg, vice-president.

Student Council Heads School's

Officers for Student Council Jerry Willey, vice-president; Pat McMahon, secretary; and Bob Querio, president.

The Student Council is the governing body at Junior College. Besides ten in-district students and three out-of-district representatives, the council consists of officers from both classes, and representatives from all organized clubs. All business concerning dances, activities, assemblies, elections, recognition of new clubs, apportioning budgets, and many other problems are discussed every week by the council.

This year's Student Council took action on a number of important decisions concerning the school; namely, redecorating the smoker, printing and selling of student directories, operating book exchange, and sending representatives to various conferences held during the school year.

At the Christmas party Student Council sponsored, Melanie Schroeder and Leona Wicburg tell Santa that their presents should be tall, dark, and handsome.

Main Activities . . .

In the annual business, The Student Council sponsored the fall formal, "November Nocturne," which depicted a typical San-Francisco scene with its Chinatown, Golden Gate Bridge, and Fisherman's Wharf. It also sponsored the New Year's Eve Dance, Sadie Hawkins Day and Twirp Week, put on the Freshmen and Sophomore reviews, and handled the spring and fall picnics.

As spring marked the approach of graduation, a committee, part of which was from the council, sought a commencement speaker. Meanwhile, other members were busily planning the spring formal, which turned out to be a high spot in the spring season.

At right is the San Francisco-orientated fall formal.

Come September . . .

The halls were so-o crowded. These over-crowded conditions lead to the passing of a bond issue which would alleviate the problem.

Scott Rodghiero stands guard at the entrance of the registration line as the freshmen patiently await entry.

The first few days of school are spent talking away the hours. All realize that soon studying will replace the favorite pastime.

New to JC last year was the Book Exchange. Now it is a thriving business whose proceeds are presented in the form of a scholarship to a graduating sophomore.

JOLIET JUNIOR COLLEGE LIBRARY JOLIET, ILLINOIS

Oh, the amount of food we consumed! The Inwood shelter was packed as it started to rain, but the close quarters just added to the enjoyment.

The first activity of the year sponsored by the junior college was the annual fall picnic. The purpose of the picnic is to meet the new students and renew old acquaintances.

New friendships were made over the muddy puddle used for the tug-o-war and have lasted the whole year.

The baseball and volleyball games attracted large crowds, while the pie-eating contest attracted the more adventuresome souls.

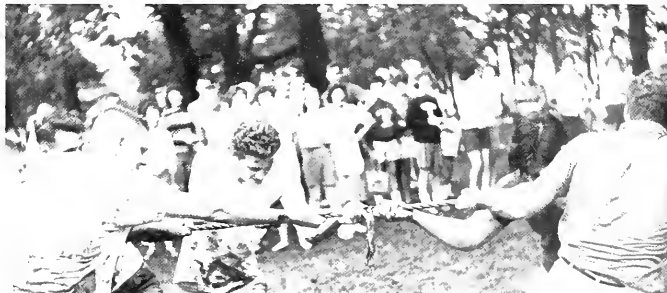

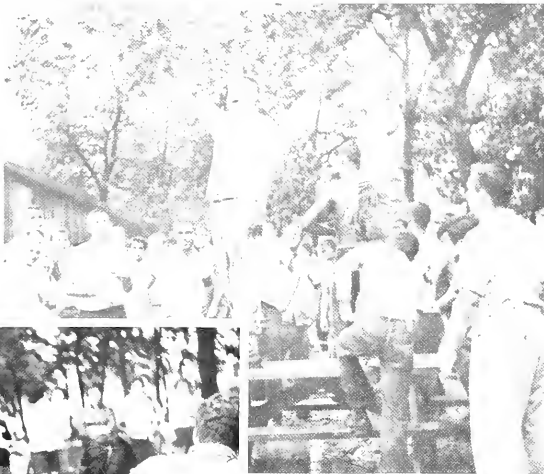

Tennis is always a popular sport and there were many participants, while those who liked to walk chased "the elusive little pill" (a golf ball) around the course.

The girls' tug-o-war was as exciting as the boys', but just a little bit cleaner.

Picnickers

Inwood Park provided the wet setting for the fall picnic. This was the first event sponsored by the school for the school year.

A muddy Scott Rodeghiero announces the next game-- a pie-eating contest.

Wallowing JC boys are engaged in a serious business as each team desperately tries to win and to avoid any more mud.

The week before Homecoming week is filled with many poster parties. Deep thought and concentration is shown by Carol Koenig and Roy Nelson as they create.

Stuffing napkins is an endless job, but yet every club undertakes the project.

60th Anniversary

The girls' football game provided entertainment for all. Penny Wills is all set for the kickoff.

The Alumni Banquet, staged in the high school cafeteria, had the honor of having Dr. David D. Henry, president of the University of Illinois, as its speaker.

The stands are filled with anxious students as the JC Wolves prepare to score another touchdown.

One of the interesting floats was the Choir's.

Homecoming Is Crowded With Events . . .

Every Homecoming is special, but this October there was added the distinction of being the 60th Anniversary Homecoming of JJC.

An especially busy homecoming weekend began with the Alumni Banquet on Thursday evening. Friday brought a stirring show of athletic ability by the girls football teams from which the Vet's emerged victorious over the Lettermen.

One of the most important events was the crowning of the Queen which climaxed weeks of gimmick-getting and poster painting by the clubs that participated in the campaign. The crowning was the highpoint of the Homecoming Dance Friday night.

Students, alumni, and guests witnessed the fine workmanship and originality of the floats in Saturday's parade which ended at the stadium. All eyes were then turned on the Wolves as they battled to victory.

Even though the posters and decorations are now torn down, the thrills and excitement of the Homecoming--the 60th.--will remain with those who attended.

Two of the members of the Queen's Court, Sandy Pluth and Penny Wills, pass cake out to the football team.

"A November night (nocturne) in San Francisco"--theme for the JJC Fall Formal--was staged Nov. 24 in the school gym.

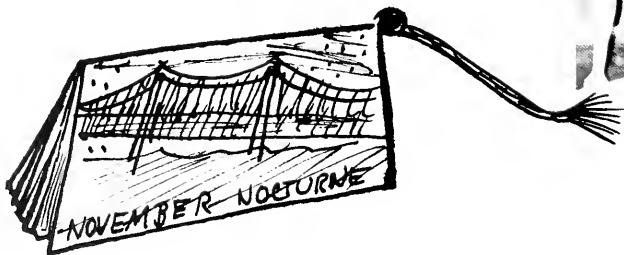

To fit in with the San Francisco theme, three landmarks were constructed. The Golden Gate Bridge was the subject of a fullwall mural erected at the North end of the gymnasium. Chinatown with its lanterns, bamboo poles, and tables for four was frequented by the dancers. Fortune cookies containing the predictions for the future were eaten. The shanties and the fishermen's wharf with its neon signs provided the setting for our candid camera.

As the magic hour of one approached, the fog, and dancers rolled out of San Francisco and left for home.

Formal High -

One of the two largest dances of the school year, the Fall Formal, attracts many Jolietans and former students.

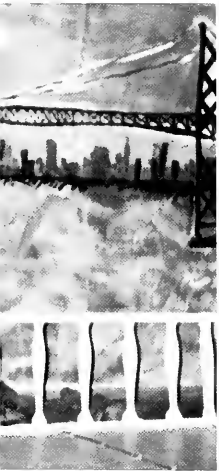

The Purdue Band provided the tempo for the evening's dancing.

Lights Fall Social Activities . . .

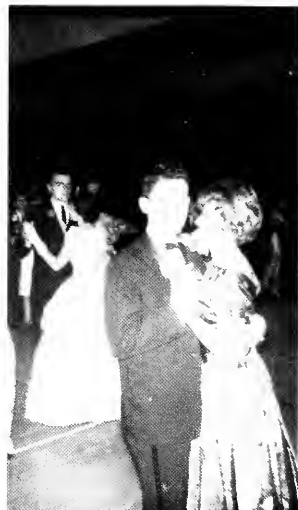

The calm San Francisco Bay with the Golden Gate Bridge illuminated by a full moon provides the romantic setting from the "Terrace." Neal MacDonald and Bonnie Nieland stop for a minute between dances.

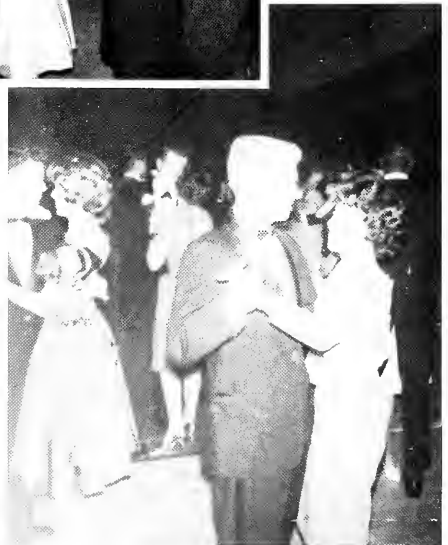

A month before the dance was to be held, committees met to decide on the decorations and the colors to be used. Not until a few days prior to the formal were the committees able to begin decorating the gym. Working frantically to finish before the dancers arrive are Jon Pohl, Barb Merrell, Jerry Willey, and Bonnie Pearson.

Faces Show Why the Formal Is a Success . . .

SEA members are anxiously awaiting the next word of their human spelling bee. One of the largest groups at JC, the party was held at the Y. M. C. A.

Holiday Spirit

Neal MacDonald's Christmas is complete, he now has his own Flintstone book.

The most important person at any Christmas party is, of course, the jolly man in red. Santa listens with a twinkle in his eye as Leona Wicburg mentions a last minute wish.

What is a Christmas party without food? Press Club president, Dave Hurst, gives the necessary equipment (plates) to Lois Zentarski and Aija Jekabsons.

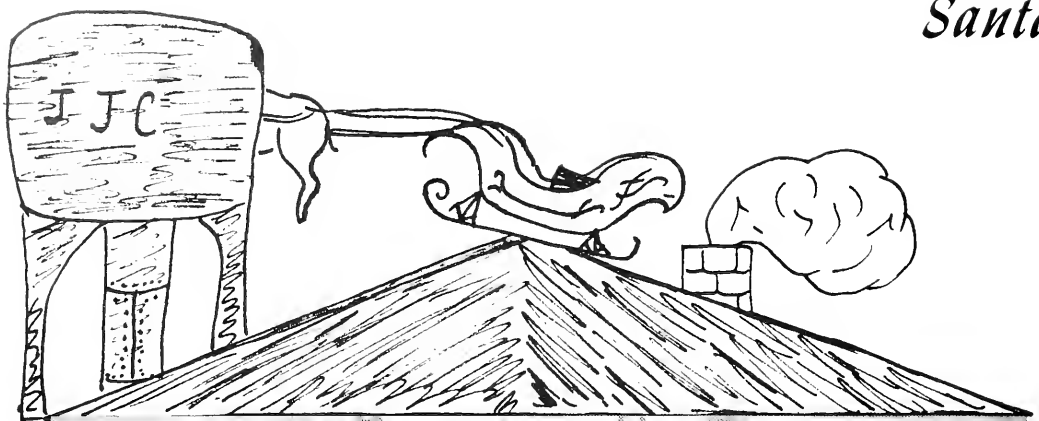

An original Christmas tree.

Invades JJC . . .

The SMS party was held in the home ec. rooms a few days before Christmas. After a delicious dinner, slides were shown and the evening ended with the singing of Christmas carols.

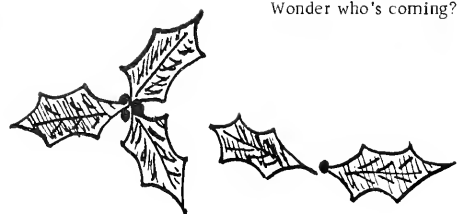

While JC students make merry inside, a visitor suddenly appears.

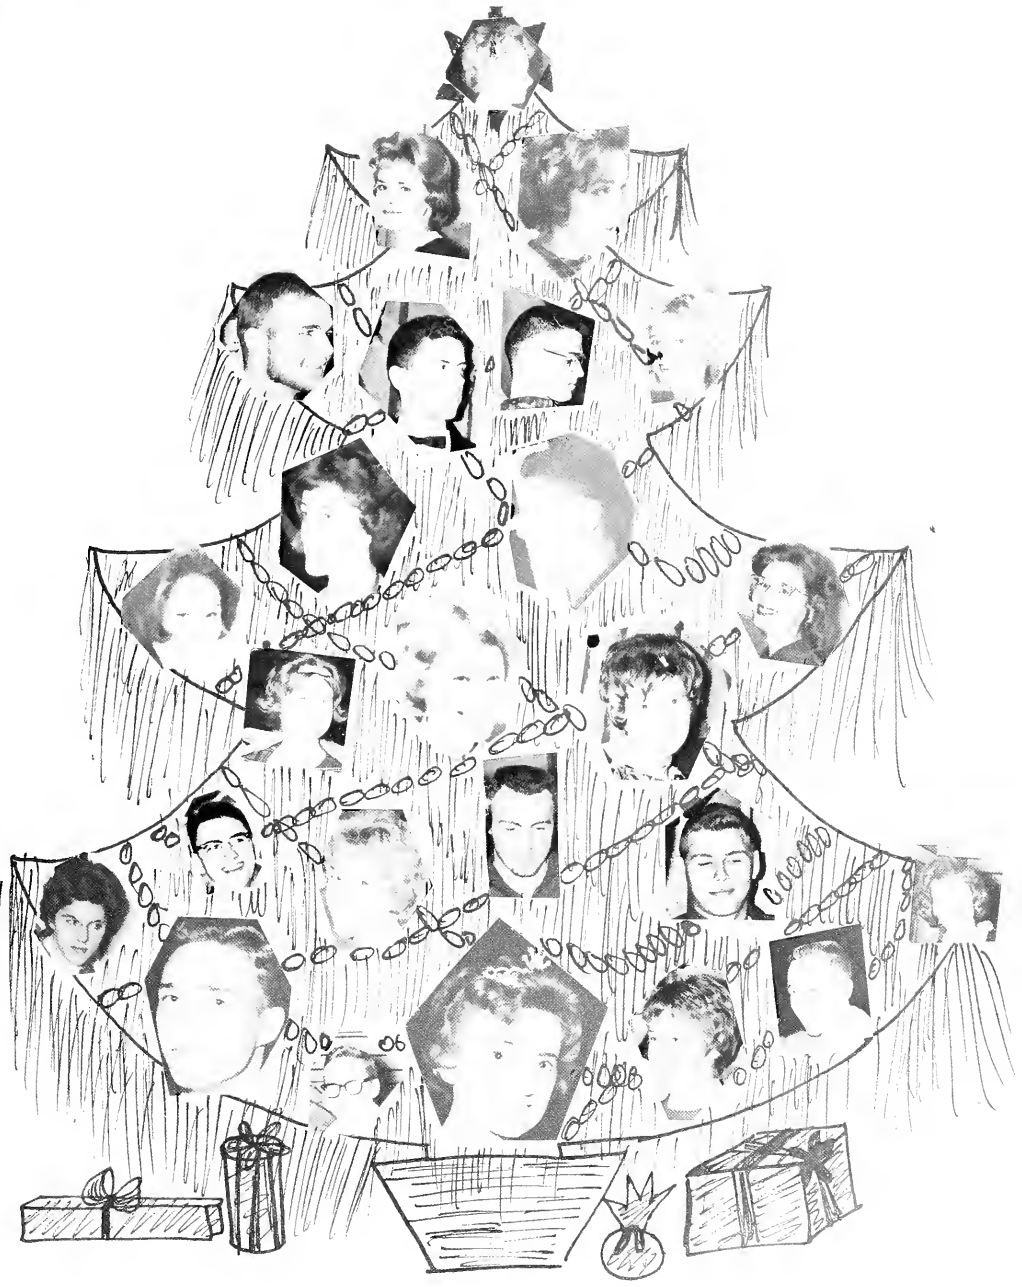

Contentment!

SEA members look pleased. Wonder who's coming?

Stops . . .

Sadie Hawkins

A very successful Twirp Season officially got underway on February 23 with an ice skating party at Inwood, sponsored by the SMS. The following Wednesday a "gymboree," sponsored by the Letterman's Club and WAL, was held in the gym. Ending the season was the Sadie Hawkins Dance on March 3. This was an exciting affair which produced some of the most hilarious outfits seen in these parts.

Penny Wills, Sandy Celeznik, Leona Wicburg, Sue Grimpe, Diane Lockwood, and Sally Wohlgermuth model their charming outfits at the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Dance Ends Twirp Season

The gals are all lined up for the next dance but there seems to be something missing.

Carrying out the tradition of Twirp Season Barb Merrell, Melanie Schroeder, and Bertha Schulz carry books for Larry Kienlen, Ralph Alderman and Neal MacDonald.

Bob Querio, Bob Sandberg, Andy Kotowicz, Neal MacDonald, Dave Warthen, and Tom Kienlen show that is being worn by the well dressed man these days.

The Time the Woman Is

Russ Hartley called for the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Tom Kienlen seems to have been claimed by a determined gal.

Swing your partner.

Gordon Kay and Bonnie Pearson enjoy playing london bridges falling down or is it something else?

Requested to Pay

It seems that Ann Low doesn't like what is being poured into her glass.

Mary Ann Lambakis looks like she is having fun.

Ralph Alderman and Leona Wicburg represent a typical Li'l Abner and Daisy May.

The Chessmen were popular with JJC students.

Not just students attended the mixers, but also faculty members.

Mixers Provide Collegians

An informal, spur-of-the-moment mixer was held in the smoker at the beginning of the semester. The talents of these five boys entertained the JJC'ers for an hour.

Russ Hartley was the featured caller at the Press Club square dance.

Mel Schroeder, Lee Wickburg, and Rich Carlson seemed to have a wonderful time, but what happened to poor Gil Jacobs?

The "circle" dances gave the dancers an opportunity to meet new partners.

The Twist

The Lettermen's Club sponsored an after-game mixer benefit for football player Walt Williams. The money raised was used to help defray the medical expenses incurred by Walt during the football season.

Highlighting the dance was the Twist Contest which almost everyone entered.

a Chance for Socializing . . .

Penny Wills looks determined to win as she and Nick Kobe "twist."

"Say, Martha, do you suppose we could do that?"

"Do you really think we ought to try it, Artie?"

"No."

This is how the twist should be done. The judges agree, and Pat and partner are announced the Champion Twisters.

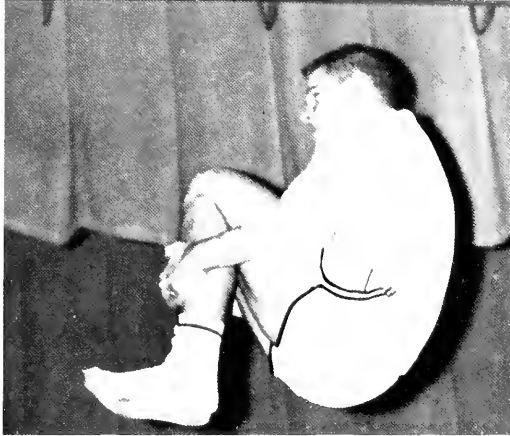

Assemblies Are Held

Marilyn Simonetti delivers her campaign speech for student council as...

Norm McDonald shows fine form as he performs on the trampoline during the Freshmen Assembly.

Marty Sharp quickly runs through hers.

Neal MacDonald seems to have lost a word while telling the group why he would be a good representative.

for Many Reasons . . .

"Whatever happened to that protective shield you were talking about, Scott?" quips Ron Hughes after receiving a pie in the face.

After being challenged by the freshmen to produce a show better than their own, the sophomore cast of the "Review" assist "Mitch Miller."

A shy Gordie Kay in a scene from the "Sophomore Review"...

surprised forward Jon (i) O'Donnell.

"Mitch Miller" leads the audience in a pre-Christmas sing.

The Student Union at Normal held the Yearbook Conference in October. The annual event is well attended.

JC's faculty travels, too. Mr. Zaida and Miss Chapin attended the annual Junior College Conference.

The mock UN meeting has been held for several years now. JC'ers participating in this year's meeting are: Aija Jekabsons, Jane Berlin, Paul Eisen, and Jim Herringer. The sponsor is Mr. Birkholz.

Travel . . .

A leisurely evening is spent at the lodge with food, fun, and lots of talking.

This quartet of skiers is in a jovial mood, despite a few falls.

Aija Jekabsons is set to go just as soon as she gets the word.

Joliet Junior College's championship football team placed six men on both offensive and defensive Illinois Junior College conference teams, with three each on the first and second teams.

On the offensive first team, picked by the conference coaches, fullback Ken Pellegrini, left halfback Jason Scott and right guard Steve Long were placed. On the second offensive team, right end Joe Simon, left tackle Jim Hrusosky and quarterback Denny Lapikas won position.

Defensive first team spots went to middle guard Steve Long, linebacker Ken Pellegrini and defensive halfback Roger McDaniels. Picked for the defensive second team were end Ron Hughes, tackle Bill Marco and linebacker Dave Hennessey.

Former Joliet Catholic star, Pellegrini, and Wilmington import Long, were the only two to make both the first offensive and defensive squads. Both men are freshmen and will be back with coach Gil Bell's team in 1962.

Other returning lettermen to next year's squad will be end Joe Simon, tackle Jim Hrusosky and quarterback Denny Lapikas, with all-conference honors.

Illinois Junior College Conference champion Joliet JC dominated the all-conference team with three selections to the 10-member squad. The team was announced by the Harvey Tribune.

Ed Edson and Glenn Bates, the Wolves' 6-4 forwards, and 5-9 guard Charlie Brown made the squad; Brown was one of three freshmen named to the all-IJCC unit.

All three averaged at least 19 points per game in leading Joliet to a 25-2 regular season record and a 10-1 conference mark.

Brown, former JT standout who came to JJC after an army stint and a year at Bradley University, led the team with 607 points, a 22.5 average and a .509 shooting percentage. An able ball-handler and aggressive defender, he also topped the squad in free throws with 105.

Bates, another JT grad, sank 593 points for a 21.9 average while Edson, former Lockport star, had 538 and a 19.9 mark. Both are adept defenders who give the Wolves plenty of rebounding strength.

"Not everyone has one of those!"

Some Freshmen can do unusual things.

"He thinks I'm going to pay for our date Saturday night."

"Who substituted Sleep-eez for my No-Doz?"

Freshmen girls show determination in the tug-of-war at the all-school picnic.

23, Skiddoo!

"It's what's up front that counts."

"All right, you guys let's smear 'em. "

"Ya got to hug 'em every morning," sings Marty Sharp at the Freshmen assembly.

"Would you mind explaining that again?"

"I think I should have started studying for this test earlier."

"The cafeteria was too crowded today."

"Um, barbecue!"

In Memoriam

Jacqueline Sue Thontlin, known by everyone as Jackie, was a business major at Joliet Junior College. She participated in many school activities, especially those concerning JC Players, and also was very active in her church. She attended Sunday School for thirteen years without an absence, was a Sunday School Leader, Adult Youth Leader, and member of the Church Jr. Choir. All those who knew Jackie will remember her smiling face, friendliness, good will and loyalty.

From Scott Rodeghiero:

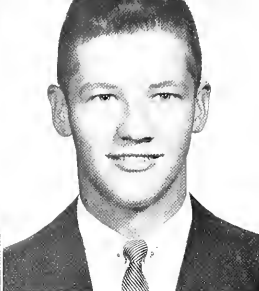

To posterity and for the annals of history I earnestly entreat that the precedent initiated by the renowned class of 1962 resulting in the creation of that magnanimous spectacle known affectionately as the Sophomore Revue, the epitome of theatrical splendor, become an annual affair for students and faculty to anticipate with excitable fervor. Consequently, the class of 1962 will live on in the hallowed halls of JJC in the unforgettable form of a histrionic thrill brought to you through the courtesy and competency of the Sophomore Class.

From Ken Lawson:

It is at this time of the year when you, the student body, look back through the events of the preceding school term. Starting with the all school picnic in the fall through the formals, and finally the sophomores' departure at graduation, you ponder the question of whether this was a successful year for the school, the student body, and you, yourself. As you reflect, numerous other activities come into mind. Some of these were fun-filled, others of a more serious nature. However, all of them played an important role during the school term. All of these events and activities took leadership in one form or other. Whether it came from class officers, the Student Council, various clubs, or the committees, it was there when it was needed. This leadership ability is what will make or break a school's spirit. I, in behalf of the different club and class officers, hope that we have succeeded in planning and carrying out a year that all students will remember. I further hope that this fine new leadership will be continued in the halls of JJC in the following years.

From Mary Ann (Kootz) Lambakis:

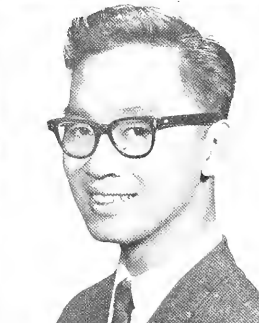

In September of 1960 I entered the "stone campus" of Joliet Junior College as a freshman, unaware of what lay before me. As time progressed, I had the honor of holding the office of secretary of the sophomore class. It has been more than a pleasure to have worked with a student body which has been as cooperative and enthusiastic as this one has been. Upon leaving this institution, I wish to will to my successor two worn-out (stubby) pencils and my "scripto" notebook, in hopes that she (or he) may put them to better use than they have been previously. Good luck to all in the years ahead! It's been real. . . .!

Now, now, Dave, cafeteria food can't be that bad. Dave Hurst, Terry Guidetti, and Dick Wright seem to disagree.

"Everything's Coming Up Roses" for Joyce Speckman on the annual ski trip to Mount Telemark in Cable, Wisconsin. Tony De Angelis looks on. Due to a bus breakdown, the group spent an extra day at the ski lodge.

Dean Rowley visits the troops on the "Berlin" front. Says the dean, "I wonder when Khrushchev is planning his next Summit Conference?"
